PRESS RELEASE

Net Entertainment signs three new agreements

Net Entertainment has signed three new license agreements with Danbook.com, Europlay-Malta and VIX Casino for delivery of the award winning product CasinoModule™. In total Net Entertainment has signed 13 new license agreements during 2007.

Danbook.com is a UK based bookmaker targeting primarily the Danish market. Danbook has been in operation since 2005 and aims to launch their casino services during quarter four, 2007. Danbook will after integration of the CasinoModule™ have a complete service offering comprising sports betting, poker and casino.

Europlay-Malta is a rapidly growing gaming site targeting the German speaking market. Europlay-Malta will apply for a gaming license in Malta and aim to launch their casino services using the CasinoModule™ by the end of the year.

VIX Casino originates from a number land based casinos now extending their business operation to the online market. Through the CasinoModule™ VIX Casino will be able to offer their members the same high quality and exciting gaming experience as they are used to from the land based operation.

“We have been successful in closing new deals during 2007 which shows the strength of our product and service offering. With mounting competition it becomes increasingly important for operators to offer the latest in gaming technology to attract and retain players. The Net Entertainment CasinoModule™ provides the competitive edge operators require.” says Johan Öhman, CEO Net Entertainment.

Net Entertainment develops digitally distributed systems for Internet gaming. The core product, CasinoModule™, is a complete gaming platform that comprises a high number of browser based games as well as a powerful administration tool. Customers are offered a system solution that is adapted to each customer and is easily integrated with their existing websites. Net Entertainment licenses the CasinoModule™ on a royalty basis based on the revenues the product generates. Net Entertainment is listed on the Nordic Growth Market (NET-B).
